COY LAD REDUCES RECORD

RUNS MILE IN 1:38½ IN WINNING HANDICAP
AT DOUGLAS PARK.

Melton Street Also Sets a New Record for Mile and an Eighth in Winning Selling Race—Jockey
Loftus Gets Big Fee.

Louisville, Ky., May 29.—H. H. Hewitt's Coy Lad, with 101 pounds up, ran a smashing race this afternoon at Douglas Park. In winning the $800 mile handicap he reduced the track record to 1:38½ from 1:39½, made by Helen Barbee on the opening day of the meeting. Morrisstown was in nearest pursuit at the end and Royal Tea was third. Coy Lad showed a high flight of speed all the way and was given an able ride by McCabe. The race was his disappointment to many on account of the poor showing of Joe Morris which was installed favorite. He flattered his backers for three-quarters of a mile and then retired to the rear on account of a foreleg, that has long been under suspicion, going back on him. He returned to the scales in a distressed condition and it is possible that he will not race again for some time. Coy Lad was an extreme outsider in the betting and his few supporters received remunerative odds.

Weather and track conditions could not have been improved on, and contributed to another big attendance. The betting was again spirited and averaged up well to the three preceding days of this week. In this respect it is remarkable that the amount bet has been almost uniform daily.

Long priced winners scored in three of the races, and liberal quotations were also obtained against Rosa Mundi, Praetorian and Melton Street, successful favorites. The racing was again interesting and immensely enjoyed. The finish of the closing dash was a thriller, Melton Street succeeding in the final stride after a strenuous last quarter drive. He lowered the track record for a mile and one-eighth by one-fifth of a second.

Jockey Loftus was today presented with $1,000 by H. H. Emmons as a reward for his ride on Rindolf in the Kentucky Handicap. Mr. Emmons, in presenting Loftus with the generous fee, told the rider that at any time he could again see an opportunity to help him win $12,000 he would increase the fee substantially. Loftus has practically been engaged to pilot Rindolf in the Kentucky Endurance Stake, four miles, in which he is already looked upon as a formidable proposition for the others to tackle. This race, like the Kentucky Handicap, will be worth a fortune, and will easily be the greatest prize to be raced for in this country in the fall.

Manager Mack was eliminated as a factor in the last race on account of being stricken with a hemorrhage during the running.

The two-horse combination, composed of Tattler and Praetorian, paid $117.50 for $2. No one picked the three horse combination and it went to the field backers, who received $21.75.

Thomas McGee, who for a number of years was confidential man for Edward Corrigan, and who is now in business in Kansas City, was among today's visitors and was kept busy shaking hands with numerous acquaintances. Mr. McGee is en route to his home town of Texas, where he attended the funeral of his brother, Mr. McGee stated that the former well-known owner, Pat Dunne, was getting on splendidly in his established business in Kansas City, as is Mr. Corrigan who is in the contracting business there. Mr. McGee expressed much surprise over the great change that racing in this locality has undergone since the elimination of the bookmaking method of wagering.

Captain J. H. Rees was among today's visitors, stopping off on his way to Memphis from Pittsburgh. Mr. Rees has vast business interests in both the cities named.

J. W. Johnson and J. M. Goode dissolved partnership today, the former taking the horses Flora Flina, Milton B., Mockery, Tom Boy and Gray Plume. Mr. Goode took the remaining ones, consisting of Anoret, Jessie Louise, Banorella and Doctor Kendall. Each has his respective division.

Secretary Maguire is trying to arrange a special race for Saturday at five furlongs that will bring into contest, among others, Imperator, Little Nephew, Old Rubeen, Boots and Saddie, McGee and Dodge. The race is intended as a try-out for the Spring Trial Stakes, to be run on June 7, the closing day of the Douglas Park meeting.

Jockey Andrus was suspended for the remainder of the meeting by the starter as a result of disobedience at the post.

Jefferson Livingston, the well known Cincinnati, closed a deal today for the 2-year-old Schemmian, and he will be turned over to Mose Goldblatt to be trained.

Trainer John F. Schorr stated today that Froglegs and Edna were both coming around again in good shape and that the injuries were minor characters. Edna has been troubled for some time with a troublesome tendon and may go wrong at any time.

James Osborne, formerly assistant to Mars Cassidy, who is now doing the starting on Northwestern Canadian coaches, sent word here that they had a prosperous session at Edmonton and that the same will likely hold good at Prince Albert, where a meeting will soon be held.

Col. Jack Chinn and W. S. Payne, a well known breeder, were among today's visitors.

Fred Auerbach, who is extensively interested in the Charleston track, was an arrival this afternoon and will remain several days to enjoy the sport.

BETTING REGULATIONS IN THE EAST.

Attorneys for New York Racing Associations Give Advice on Subject.

New York, May 29.—It is stated that any person who attends the Belmont Park race track, where racing will be resumed tomorrow after having been suspended since 1910, may bet without fear of molestation. He will not be hampered or annoyed, but he must live within the intent as well as the letter of the law which is against bookmaking and gambling. Personal wagers, having been defined by the courts as perfectly legal, will be tolerated by the club officials and county officials. But no bookmaking will be allowed, and no person who accepts a bet will be permitted to record it.

Such is the substance of an opinion given by the attorneys for the four racing associations that will jointly hold the racing meeting, lasting eighteen days, at the Belmont Park track, relative to betting. No person will be allowed to solicit bets or to publicly display odds or to make records of bets. None of the patrons of the track will be permitted to occupy a place in the old betting ring. This would be construed by the management of the track as "occupying a place for bookmaking purposes." Neither will the race-goers be allowed to stand in one place or in any manner show that they are occupying a place for gambling purposes. The visitor will be asked to keep moving on the lawn or to occupy seats in the grandstand.

In spite of the fact that the Scudder decision in the Paul Shane case permits oral betting and the

REVIVAL OF AN IMPORTANT EASTERN RACE

To admirers of racing the reappearance of the Metropolitan Handicap in the field of turf activity is a quite pleasing incident. It was inaugurated in 1891 with a titanic struggle in which such renowned horses as Tristan, Tenny, Clarendon, Riley, Senorita, Ambulance and Tournament participated. The race became the main handicap of the Westchester Racing Association's annual program and ranked with the Brooklyn and Suburban handicaps in public estimation. Its decision was attended by many exciting finishes, among which the memorable dead heat between the grand colt Sysonby and the lightly-weighted Race King in 1905 stands pre-eminent. It was never won by any other than a high-class race horse and such as Tristan, Ramapo, Voter, Ethelbert, Gundry, Irish Lad, Sysonby, Jack Atkin and King James were stars of the first order. One of the most distinguished horses of recent English racing is named to try for its honors today. This is H. P. Whiffney's fleet and beautiful horse, Whisk Broom II. His debut in American racing will be viewed with great interest. The record of the Metropolitan is as follows:

private recording of wagers by persons who accept odds, the track managers have decided not to take advantage of the full terms of this important legal opinion. While the Scudder decision has been unanimously affirmed by the Appellate Division, and has been pronounced good law by the attorneys of the racing interests, it has been agreed upon to await final action by the Court of Appeals before letting down the bars.

If Governor Sulzer accept an invitation from the Westchester Racing Association to attend the races at Belmont Park on Friday, he will readily discover that the law prohibiting bookmaking, which is without writing, or other forms of gambling is strictly enforced, and that the turf solons are ready to co-operate with the district attorney and the sheriff of Nassau County in suppressing professionals. A well-posted racing man outlines Friday's proceedings in this way:

"If you can find a friend at the track who is willing to accept your word instead of money, you can ask him the odds against any horse you may fancy. Without referring to his program or other memoranda he can quote a price to you, depending entirely on his memory. If you make an oral wager with him he must memorize it and you can do the same."

"But under no circumstances must the bet be written down by either of you. If the horse wins you can collect the amount of the wager away from him. If the horse loses it or if you can convince him that he owes you. If the horse loses it is a question involving your word of honor to pay up."

A man who offers odds at your solicitation cannot employ one or more clerks to keep track of the transactions. You cannot hand him a card to keep him in mind of your bet. In other words, betting will be reduced to a minimum and conducted so privately that there can be no tangible evidence upon which to base arrests. There will be no open speculation of any kind and certain well-known professionals, if they visit the track, will be under constant surveillance.

"The racing association is satisfied to re-open the gates for the revival of the sport at its own expense. If the public responds with a fair amount of patronage well and good, for gate receipts will help. But the men in control of the sport do not intend to have the future jeopardized by a number of professional gamblers who care nothing for racing itself, but simply go to the track for the purpose of lining their pockets."

"These rules will apply to all parts of the enclosure, the clubhouse being on the same plane with the grandstand and the one dollar section. The Pinkertons will aid the sheriff's men in every way and persons who expect to see open violations of the law will be disappointed."

"The racing on Friday will afford both a spectacle and an outing for those who endure over the thoroughbred and will be entirely cut off from speculation. Under these conditions the racing interests believe they can get along without the slightest trouble or friction with the officers of the law."

The Westchester Racing Association, under whose auspices the meeting will be held, and other associations which have planned meetings at other tracks, circulated today announcements that the law in relation to bookmaking and betting would be enforced to its strictest interpretation. Notice is served that if any attempt is made at bookmaking, as it is feared there may be among the crowds within the inclosure where only $1 admission is charged, this popular priced section will be closed entirely.

The right of individuals to bet among themselves will not be interfered with by the police, it is understood, if only oral wagers are made.

KENTUCKY HORSES FOR HAMILTON.

Hamilton, Ont., May 29.—H. H. Emmons' Rindolf, winner of the Kentucky Handicap at Louisville last Monday, will be shipped to Hamilton at the close of the Douglas Park meeting to run in the National Handicap on Dominion Day. Ten Point, which was second in the race and also in the Kentucky Derby, will also visit Hamilton, where he will start in the Hamilton Derby. With such good three-year-olds as Ten Point, Hawthorn, Buskin, Kieburne and Barnegat likely to face the starter, this race promises to be one of the most attractive events of the year on the Canadian circuit. The Hamilton meeting will bring out considerable new material, sporting silk for the first time in the Dominion this season, as many stables are coming from Kentucky at the close of the Douglas Park meeting. The track is in excellent condition and a number of horses are quartered there that recently arrived from Baltimore.

It was over the Hamilton track that Rindolf won his maiden race last summer.

OLD CAMPAIGNERS SCORE AT ALAN.

Spokane, Wash., May 29.—The program at Alan today was just an ordinary one, the races being devoted to the cheaper grade of horses and oldtimers at the barrier scored in nearly every instance. Abound was the only favorite to score. He won in a drive from a poor lot, Ben Stone easily proved best of his field. Ramsy, the favorite, was weakly ridden.

Short Cut won the fourth, a sprint of five furlongs, with utmost ease. The surprise of the day came when Southern Gold won at the long odds of 15 to 1 in the fifth race.

DAVIES STABLE IN FORM

HORSES OF PROMINENT TORONTO TURFMAN
SCORE IN THREE RACES AT WOODBINE.

Plate Glass Wins the Connaught Cup and Stewards
Exercise Discretionary Powers in Disqualifying
His Stable Companion, First Sight.

Toronto, Ont., May 29.—The stable of Robt. Davies, which has been cutting an important figure in the racing here this spring, furnished three of the winners at Woodbine this afternoon. The opening race went to Knights Differ, which made a runaway affair of it and Sky Rocket followed up her stable companion's success by scoring over Lyric Muse in the second race. The Davies pair, Plate Glass and First Sight, finished first and second in the Connaught Cup, the former beating the three-year-old by half a length. Moody was unable to keep First Sight straight in the stretch racing and just as he got clear of Bwana Tumbo, his mount swerved to the inside rail sharply, cutting Bwana Tumbo off. The stewards took advantage of the amended rule of the Canadian Racing Associations which permits them to use discretion in disqualifying either one, or both of an entry in the event of interference, by disqualifying only First Sight, the change in the placing giving Bwana Tumbo second money and Amberite third. As Plate Glass and First Sight were coupled, it cut no figure with those who wagered on the Davies entry. Last fall at the annual meeting of the Canadian Racing Associations several rules were changed and some amended. The rule which covered today's case, which refers to interference and foul riding, was 105, paragraph 5, of which reads: "Every horse in a race belonging wholly or partly to the same owner may also be disqualified."

It was the consensus of opinion that the officials did the fair and sensible thing in this particular case, as it would have been a hardship to take the race away from Plate Glass, which cut no figure in the interference whatever. Incidentally the victory of Plate Glass marked the eighth success of the Davies stable during the five days of the meeting.

The program was a well balanced one and a majority of the races furnished interesting contests. Apart from the Connaught Cup, there were additional attractions. The Maple Leaf Stakes, for Canadian-bred three-year-olds, with $1,500 added, and the Baldyle Steeplechase, $1,000 added, over the two-mile course. The former went to H. Giddings, Sarolta, which won easily. The Giddings stable is pushing the Davies establishment closely. Sarolta being the fifth winner that this stable has sent to the post and a majority of its victories have been scored in stakes.

The tabled history of the Maple Leaf Stakes since 1900 is given below:

1901	Lady Berkeley	117	L. Thompson	560 2:02
1902	Lyddite	122	T. Walker	640 1:54
1903	Profligate	117	Pickering	845 1:58½
